La bella vita,
at work

La bella vita
— the good life — isn't reserved for weekends.

Flora is the most stylish chair in the collection.

A clean, visually refined silhouette that enhances any space — architectural and uncluttered, without compromising performance.

Comfort and beauty are not a trade-off.

It offers two mechanisms so you can match the exact
level of ergonomic support a space needs: Vibe (weight-sensing) and Lynx (full synchro with seat depth adjustment).

Italian-engineered mechanisms, contract-grade build, BIFMA X5.1 certified — rigorously tested to support up to 300 lbs. Backed by a 10-year frame-and-mechanism warranty.

Renaissance spirit,
in your space

The Renaissance held a simple belief: the things we use every day deserve the same care as the things we admire.

Velia was designed in that spirit.

Velia just fits anywhere, anyplace, anytime. Featuring Italian craftsmanship that places ergonomics at the forefront.

The Y-frame and the way the backrest opens feel sketched before they were engineered — every curve a negotiation between the designer's vision and the engineer's tolerances.

Powered By: Vibe and Lynx, the same Italian-engineered mechanisms and tolerances that run through the entire collection.

Velia belongs in any room.

BIFMA X5.1 certified — rigorously tested to support up to 300 lbs. 10-year frame-and-mechanism warranty.

A large, white, angular stone sculpture, possibly a modern architectural element or a piece of art, sits on a terracotta-tiled patio. The sculpture has multiple flat, geometric faces. In the background, there are several potted cacti and a small green shrub against a warm-toned wall. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, creating long shadows on the tiles.

As timeless as
